“Global corporate practices has gained momentum towards the use of managed workspaces in Singapore. As a global MICE, trade and finance hub, many global companies use Singapore as a springboard to Southeast Asia. CBS being Singapore's home grown pioneer in coworking space is committed to catering to this growing demand pool of clients for standard or customisable coworking office space.

We understand that while some companies today may prefer premium designer fitted offices, the majority of office requirements today would just prefer a good location practical managed office space for their staff to work in without the need to pay for extras which they do not require” said Melvin Lim, CEO of Centennial Business Suites.

While having six strategic coworking centres across diverse locations such as Orchard Road, Scotts Road, Suntec City, Raffles Place and Beach Road, this added location expansion by CBS to Bugis Junction is also particularly attractive to clients to attract and retain talent while still maintaining a convenient MRT interchange and prestigious address.
