

Trading Access Restored: CNTM Shares Available on OTC Pink

Following its Q2 2025 10-Q filing, ConnectM (CNTM) regains SEC compliance and announces restored trading access on the OTC Pink Market

MARLBOROUGH, MA, UNITED STATES, September 24, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ConnectM Technology Solutions, Inc. (OTC: CNTM) ("ConnectM" or the "Company"), a technology leader driving the modern energy economy, today announced the restoration of trading access for its shares on the OTC Pink Market and issued the following letter to stockholders.

Dear CNTM Stockholders,

Earlier this week, we filed our Form 10-Q for Q2 2025, delivering on management's commitment and restoring ConnectM's SEC reporting compliance. The quarter reflected strong progress: revenue grew nearly 70% year-over-year to $8.5 million, liabilities were reduced by more than $13 million, and interest expense declined meaningfully. These results underscore both the operating momentum of ConnectM's business and our disciplined approach to strengthening our balance sheet.

While our application to up-list to the OTCQB exchange is under review, we want to remind shareholders that ConnectM's shares are currently tradable on the OTC Pink Market (Ticker: CNTM). Trading is available through leading brokerage platforms including Charles Schwab, Fidelity, E*Trade, TD Ameritrade, Webull, and Interactive Brokers. Please note that certain brokers may require additional account approvals or adjustments to trading settings. We encourage you to confirm directly with your provider if you wish to trade CNTM shares.

Looking ahead, our priorities remain clear: scaling our businesses, advancing our capital-markets initiatives, and creating long-term value for shareholders. We thank you for your continued trust and support as we take these next steps together.

Sincerely,
The ConnectM Management Team
