Financial, a leading provider of finance, tax and accounting services focused on supporting early-stage and growth-stage businesses, today announced it has acquired Furey, a modern provider of scalable accounting, finance, and payroll solutions built for venture-backed startups. This strategic acquisition marks a significant milestone for Graphite as it accelerates its growth, expands its capabilities, and strengthens its position as a leading finance partner for high-growth companies navigating an increasingly complex market.

By combining Graphite’s strategic finance, tax and CFO expertise with Furey’s operational excellence and accounting and people operations teams, we’re creating the most comprehensive finance platform.”

Chris Mossa, CEO of Graphite Financial

“Startups today face a more demanding environment than ever—capital is tighter, investors expect more, and teams need to move faster with fewer resources,” said Chris Mossa, CEO of Graphite Financial. “Acquiring Furey allows us to meet that challenge head-on. By combining Graphite’s strategic finance, tax and CFO expertise with Furey’s operational excellence and accounting and people operations teams, we’re creating the most comprehensive finance platform in the market. Our goal is to give founders the clarity and control they need without the burden of building an in-house finance team.”

This strategic move significantly enhances Graphite’s commitment to delivering a full spectrum of technology-enabled financial solutions and domain expertise by retaining Furey’s talented and tenured team, which includes controllers, accountants, and operations leaders with backgrounds from top accounting firms and high-growth startups. Their continued efforts will strengthen Graphite’s ability to deliver finance-as-a-service, from tactical accounting, tax and compliance to board-level advisory and scenario planning. It also meaningfully expands Graphite’s client base, talent pool, and geographic presence, further establishing the company as a trusted partner for startups across sectors including SaaS, e-commerce, healthtech, fintech, AI, and consumer brands.

"This is the beginning of an exciting new chapter for our customers and our team. Joining forces with Graphite expands our reach, broadens our service offerings, and accelerates our mission to empower founders and management teams with unmatched insights and operational rigor," said Dennis Furey, Co-Founder and CEO of Furey.

The acquisition also underscores the support and confidence of Graphite's investors. "The Furey team has built a respected business known for precision and a client-centric approach," said Ben Bisconti, Co-CEO of Red Iron Group. "Bringing Furey and Graphite together expands the resources and capabilities that make Graphite a standout in this space. We are excited to see these two outstanding teams combine efforts to redefine modern finance and deliver best-in-class services to their clients."
