

Spiral Bloom by Kuo Kuo-Hsiang Wins Gold in A' Fine Art Design Awards

Exceptional Public Art Installation Recognized for Its Innovative Design and Profound Impact

COMO, CO, ITALY, September 23, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The A' Design Award, one of the world's most respected and well-recognized awards in the field of fine art design, has announced Kuo Kuo-Hsiang's "Spiral Bloom" as the winner of the Gold A' Fine Art Design Award. This highly prestigious recognition highlights the exceptional design and profound impact of Spiral Bloom within the fine art industry.

Spiral Bloom's recognition by the A' Fine Art Design Award underscores its relevance to current trends and needs within the fine art industry. The installation's innovative approach to integrating art with architectural space aligns with and advances industry standards and practices, offering practical benefits for viewers, the industry, and other stakeholders through its unique exploration of form, light, and space.

Spiral Bloom is a striking public art installation composed of three large-scale sculptures suspended within a minimalist architectural space. Each sculpture, made from 51 stainless steel components arranged in concentric spirals, reflects the dynamic forces of life and nature. Floating in a vast atrium, the artwork creates a visual dialogue between form, light, and space, symbolizing vitality, transformation, and the boundless potential of the future.

The Gold A' Fine Art Design Award serves as motivation for Kuo Kuo-Hsiang and his team to continue striving for excellence and innovation in their future projects. This recognition may foster further exploration of the relationship between suspended sculptures and architectural
