

IPT Well Solutions' Managing Director, Neel L. Duncan, to Speak at Houston Strategy Forum's Energy & Carbon Summit

GOLDEN, CO, UNITED STATES,
September 23, 2025 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- IPT Well Solutions announced that its Managing Director, Neel L. Duncan, will be a featured speaker at the upcoming Energy & Carbon Summit, hosted by the Houston Strategy Forum on September 30, 2025, at the Petroleum Club in Downtown Houston.

The event, themed "State of the Marketplace," brings together senior leaders from across the energy and carbon sectors for an unscripted, candid discussion on the structural shifts transforming the industry.

Mr. Duncan will join a panel that includes:

- Anthony Cottone, Vice President Corporate Development and Finance, 1PointFive
- Jillian Jopling, Senior Vice President, Lower 48, Hilcorp

Together, the panel will explore how companies are adapting strategies to remain competitive while advancing sustainable energy development.

"The energy and carbon landscape is evolving rapidly. Our role at IPT is to help companies navigate subsurface, regulatory, and technical complexities so they can achieve both operational excellence and environmental responsibility," said Neel Duncan, Managing Director of IPT Well Solutions. "This summit provides a unique forum to exchange ideas with other industry leaders on where the market is headed."

The Houston Strategy Forum's distinctive fireside-style format emphasizes open, unscripted dialogue under Chatham House Rules, encouraging participants to share perspectives on challenges and opportunities facing the sector.

About Houston Strategy Forum
