

Thunder Parley Announces Campaign for Governor of California

Ex-Google engineer runs on tackling affordability crisis, jobs, and public health & safety.

SAN JOSE, CA, UNITED STATES,
September 24, 2025 /

EINPresswire.com/ -- Thunder Parley, a former software engineer and professional problem-solver with over two decades of experience in Silicon Valley at Google and Hewlett-Packard, announced on Wednesday his campaign for Governor of California in the 2026 election. Parley made his announcement in a video shared online.

Parley, a moderate Democrat, is running on a platform focusing on tackling California's affordability crisis, creating jobs and expanding workforce development, and improving public health and safety statewide.

"To tackle the affordability crisis, California needs a professional problem solver – not another career bureaucrat looking out for their own interests," said Parley. "It's time to elect a governor for the people, not the politicians."

Parley is based in San Jose, CA, and available for interviews in-person and remotely via phone or video call. His campaign can be found on Facebook and X/Twitter at @VoteThunderCA. The campaign's website is available at VoteThunder.com.

Interview requests and requests for comment can be directed to Campaign Manager, Tom Pinkh, at media@votethunder.com or via call/text at +1 917-727-1255.
