The Business Research Company

The market size for corporate finance services has been experiencing robust growth in the past few years. The market is projected to expand from $11.62 billion in 2024 to $12.70 billion in 2025, marking a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 9.2%. This significant growth during the historic period is the result of several factors. These include escalating investments in emerging markets, a heightened concentration on sustainable and environmental, social, and governance (ESG) compliant investments, a surging demand for debt restructuring and refinancing solutions, an increased role of private equity and venture capital financing, and the ever-growing necessity for risk management and compliance services.

The market size for corporate finance services is poised for a robust expansion in the upcoming years, projected to reach $17.84 billion by 2029, with a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 8.9%. This growth during the forecast period is credited to factors such as burgeoning demands for strategic fiscal advice, an escalating need for mergers and acquisitions backup, a growing inclination towards digitally transforming financial activities, the global expansion of commercial ventures, and increasing intricacies in corporate tax laws. Key market trends during this forecast period will cover technology incorporation in financial planning and assessment tools, automation of transaction processes via technology, the amalgamation of fintech platforms with traditional financial systems, adoption of cloud-based solutions in corporate financial tasks, and the integration of blockchain for enhancing transaction safety and transparency.

What Are The Factors Driving The Corporate Finance Services Market?

The corporate finance services market is poised to expand due to the rise in mergers and acquisitions volume. Mergers and acquisitions encompass the fusion of two or more businesses or assets to fulfill strategic, financial, or operational targets. Firms are increasingly resorting to mergers and acquisitions in a bid to quickly grow and expand their markets thus gaining more market share and fortifying their competitive edge. Corporate finance services play a significant role in facilitating mergers and acquisitions by offering expert advice and financial analysis, making them crucial for intricate transactions. These services alleviate deal hazards by providing strategic counsel and due diligence, thereby enhancing transactional efficiency and outcomes. For instance, UK companies reportedly spent £4.4 billion ($5.10 billion) on acquiring overseas businesses in the initial quarter of 2024 as per the Office for National Statistics - a UK government agency. This represents a rise of £0.9 billion ($1.04 billion) from £3.5 billion ($4.06 billion) in the preceding quarter. As such, the uptrend in mergers and acquisitions volume is the key driving force propelling the corporate finance services market growth.
