

Texas Hill Country Resort Rebrands and Launches Affordable Wedding Packages in Medina, TX

SAN ANTONIO, TX, UNITED STATES, September 25, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Couples looking for a wedding destination in the Texas Hill Country can now find stunning views at affordable prices. Formerly known as Medina Highpoint Resort, the newly rebranded Texas Hill Country Resort has officially rebranded and introduced a range of affordable wedding packages marking a fresh start for one of the Hill Country's most scenic destinations. Owners Blake and Kiara DeWitt, along with revitalization partner Investorade, envision a resort where couples, families, and friends can enjoy entire weekends together rather than just a single night. With 45 guest cabins, a large ranch house, and RV spaces, wedding parties can stay on-site, turning celebrations into extended experiences.

"I love this resort because we're in real Hill Country," said Blake DeWitt, co-owner of Texas Hill Country Resort. "We've got the hilliest hills, and the scenery here gives couples perfect photo opportunities. It's rare to find a place this beautiful that's still affordable and welcoming."

Our goal is to create a place where guests feel at home.”

Kiara DeWitt

Kiara DeWitt added, “Our goal is to create a place where guests feel at home. Whether they're here for a wedding, a family reunion, or just a weekend getaway, we want couples to celebrate without worrying about breaking their budget.”

Plans are also underway to reopen the café, once known as Coyote Grill, with an expanded menu and a refreshed atmosphere.

These improvements are expected to create new local jobs, support area musicians, and bring more tourism dollars to Medina.
