Critics have stated the meaning of the song well, "As people hold on through turbulent times, 'What About Me' triangulates the human condition of survival, unity and destiny as soaring harmonies, soulful back beats and fuzz-wah guitars crisscross to form an emotional heat which rekindles our collective connection. 'What About Me' is an anthem for anyone who has persevered through tough times and is looking for hope and inspiration to keep moving forward." The meaning of the tune runs deep, which has led other radio programmers around the country to jump aboard, namely KCSN - Los Angeles, Music Choice - New York, Sun Radio - Austin, WPYA - Birmingham, WAPS - Akron, WOXL - Asheville, WRSI - Springfield, WNCS - Burlington, KPND - Spokane & KVYN - Santa Rosa to name just a few. Continuing to go one step further, The Tano Jones Revelry emphasizes paying it forward and sharing as much goodwill as possible. The band launched its signature Soup and Seeds Tour during 2024 and continues it now thru 2025. As part of their travels, the group rolls through town, performs, and offers up donations in support of everything from the fight against food insecurity to seeking a cure for cancer. Along the way, TJR has captivated audiences with special sets for WMMM's Live From Studio M lounge (Madison, WI), KINK's PNC Live Studio (Portland, OR) and KBCO's Live from Studio C (Denver, CO) among other live performances which has allowed the group to deliver non-perishable food donation or straight up financial donations to the likes of Giving Tree Global in Rye, NY, Oregon Food Bank and Food Bank of The Rockies to name just a few.
