

LoneStar Tracking Announces New Standalone Website for VitaTemp Temperature Monitoring Platform

LoneStar Tracking launches VitaTemp.us, a standalone platform for real-time temperature monitoring across logistics, medical, and cold chain.

THE WOODLANDS, TX, UNITED STATES, September 27, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- LoneStar Moving VitaTemp to its own platform allows us to deliver specialized tools and resources to industries where reliability and precision matter most.”

Thomas Remmert

Tracking, a leading provider of GPS tracking and IoT monitoring solutions, today announced that its temperature monitoring platform, VitaTemp (also known as LST Vita), has officially transitioned to its own dedicated website: www.vitatemp.us

VitaTemp provides businesses with real-time temperature monitoring designed to safeguard perishable goods, medical supplies, and sensitive cargo during transport and storage. With a growing customer base and expanding feature set, the platform has outgrown its original home under the LoneStar Tracking website.

“By moving VitaTemp to its own platform, we’re making it easier for our customers to access specialized tools, resources, and support tailored specifically for temperature monitoring,” said Thomas Remmert, CTO of LoneStar Tracking. “This step reflects our commitment to innovation and to meeting the needs of industries where precision and reliability are critical.”

The new VitaTemp website will feature:

Dedicated customer portal for streamlined account access.

Expanded resources including case studies, FAQs, and industry insights.

Product updates and announcements specific to the VitaTemp ecosystem.

LoneStar Tracking will continue to operate as the parent company, providing GPS and IoT solutions across multiple industries. VitaTemp’s move to a dedicated site allows the brand to focus more deeply on advancing cold chain technology and supporting businesses that depend on accurate, real-time temperature data.
