According to official audit datasets compiled by the Missouri Office of Broadband Development (OBD) and tracked via Ready.net's Missouri Broadband Insights Platform, nearly 962,000 broadband serviceable locations across the state remain digitally isolated. This comprehensive total encompasses approximately 644,000 completely unserved properties lacking baseline connectivity, alongside more than 317,000 underserved communities restricted by substandard speeds. This connectivity gap, or digital divide, significantly impacts Missourians' work, personal lifestyles and ability to access the numerous resources now available online.

"As Missouri continues addressing the digital divide affecting hundreds of thousands of underserved and unserved locations, ProSat Networks is committed to delivering LEO satellite internet and IT network solutions that help residential, commercial, and maritime customers stay connected in both urban and rural environments," stated a spokesperson from ProSat Networks.
