Day One: Cultural Networking & Collaboration
Friday, October 3, 2025, from 6 PM – 8 PM at the historic Cape Verdean Museum in Pawtucket, RI, CVAMS will host its 2-day research medical symposium for all advanced medical professionals and healthcare workers. The medical conference begins with networking and collaborating among clinicians, researchers, and students. The museum's atmosphere will provide a well-rounded cultural experience, spanning Cabo Verde's history from its past to the present day. Register here to attend the 2-day conference. Light hors d'oeuvres and beverages will be available.

Day Two: Research Symposium & Gala Celebration

On Saturday morning, October 4, 2025, from 8:30 AM - 5:00 PM, the conference's final day will take place at Rhode Island Hospital's George Auditorium in Providence, RI. Leading medical experts and attendees will engage in presentations on cutting-edge topics, including the past year's scientific clinical data, improvements in healthcare delivery, advancing technologies, and patient outcomes. All are welcome to participate. Medical professionals, healthcare workers, and interested community members are welcome to participate. "CVAMS was built on the belief that collaboration, innovation, and community can change lives," said Samora Lopes, CVAMS Gala Executive. "This symposium and gala not only showcase our progress but also remind us of the powerful partnerships that fuel our mission." Lopes went on to acknowledge the organization's gratitude to Brown University and Rhode Island Hospital for their ongoing alliance.

The evening's celebration culminates with the 5th Annual CVAMS Gala Fundraiser at the Providence Marriott Downtown (7 PM – 11 PM). Guests will enjoy a formal dinner and live music performances featuring Cabo Verde's renowned international recording artists: Maria de Barros, Michel Montrond, and Assol Garcia. This glamorous evening promises to be the highlight of the year—celebrating progress while raising vital funds for the future of healthcare.

About CVAMS: Five Years of Impact

In just five years, CVAMS has delivered transformative advanced healthcare across eight islands in Cabo Verde. The organization has launched specialized surgical and cardiac initiatives (rheumatic heart disease screening program), cancer screening research, supported the WTL Health Clinic in Pawtucket, RI, and provided over $2 million worth of medical supplies and equipment to hospitals and clinics in need.

This work is only possible with the support of generous partners like you. We invite you to join us as a sponsor in continuing this vital mission. Your contribution and advanced career skills will help support and fund medical training, critical supplies, and healthcare delivery in underserved and remote communities—both abroad and locally.

July 5, 2025, marked the 50th anniversary of Cabo Verde's Independence.
