“What led me to DOXA was simple,” said Birdsall. “I saw a model that prioritizes people, transparency, and long-term value. That aligned with everything I have learned in my career and how I lead. Mount Diablo businesses are full of savvy business owners, and I want to help them grow with strategy, culture, and trust.”

Why Mount Diablo

Mike chose the Mount Diablo territory because it reflects the kind of business community DOXA was built to serve. Raised in Walnut Creek and now living in Lafayette, he knows the local ecosystem well. “This is a community of builders, people who value grit, growth, and doing right by their teams. DOXA gives them a way to scale without compromise,” said Birdsall.

Addressing Today’s Staffing Challenges

Companies in the region are squeezed by rising costs and shrinking talent pools. Hiring is expensive, turnover is high, and leaders are often forced to choose between speed and ethics. DOXA helps solve this problem with full-time offshore teams that are compliant, culturally aligned, and built for long-term impact.

What Sets DOXA Apart

Unlike traditional outsourcing firms, DOXA is a strategic partner. Its Conscious Outsourcing® model ensures full legal employment, benefits, compliance, and retention strategies that work. Each team is recruited for the client’s specific needs and supported by global infrastructure. Clients are often surprised to discover that outsourcing can be both strategic and ethical, with DOXA’s retention rates of 80 percent far surpassing industry norms.
