

PostGrid Named the Fastest Growing Technology Company by The Globe and Mail

*Ranked #1 in Technology and #2 Overall
Among the Nation's Fastest Growing Businesses*

CANADA, September 30, 2025

/EINPresswire.com/ -- PostGrid, the enterprise SaaS platform transforming offline communication and address verification for leading B2B organizations, today announced its recognition by The Globe and Mail as the fastest growing technology company and #2 overall among the nation's fastest growing companies.

This ranking reflects PostGrid's extraordinary trajectory and growing influence in the enterprise technology landscape. Since launching its platform, PostGrid has become the trusted partner of global organizations seeking to automate, verify, and scale offline communications with speed and accuracy. The company's technology simplifies traditionally complex workflows in direct mail automation and address verification, unlocking efficiencies and measurable ROI for its customers.

This recognition is a testament to our team, our customers, and the vision we're building.”

“Being recognized as the fastest-growing technology company is both humbling and energizing,” said Apaar Madan, CTO of PostGrid. “This achievement is a direct reflection of the relentless dedication of our team and the confidence our customers place in us. At PostGrid, we are building the infrastructure for a new era of enterprise communication, one where offline is as smart, scalable, and measurable as digital.”

"The fastest-growing companies worldwide choose PostGrid because we make offline communications as seamless and scalable as digital channels," said Prateek Chaudhary, CRO at PostGrid. "This recognition is a testament to our team, our customers, and the vision we're building."

With offices and operations across the United States, Canada, Australia, and the United Kingdom, PostGrid continues to expand its global footprint while scaling responsibly and sustainably.

As the company looks ahead, PostGrid remains committed to expanding its capabilities and solidifying its position as the global leader in offline communication infrastructure. This recognition by The Globe and Mail underscores its mission to set new standards in enterprise SaaS while scaling responsibly and sustainably.

Now in its seventh year, The Globe and Mail's Top Growing Companies ranking celebrates entrepreneurship and innovation, spotlighting organizations transforming industries and driving global impact.
