Empowering Parents with Pediatric Dental Insights

Early childhood dental care plays a critical role in preventing issues like cavities, gum disease, and orthodontic problems later in life. Dr. Leslie Carpenter, a family dentist with over 30 years of experience in Pasadena, emphasizes that parents have a vital role in establishing good oral health habits at home.

“Proper dental care during childhood creates a foundation for healthy teeth and gums well into adulthood,” said Dr. Carpenter. “Our goal this October is to help families in Pasadena understand what preventive care looks like and why regular dental visits matter.”

The importance of a child's first dental visit and what parents should expect
