EINPresswire.com/ -- Amplinyx Inc.
today announced the upcoming launch of NexPhrase, a real-time AI coach

designed to help professionals perform at their best in high-stakes conversations. NexPhrase listens as you speak and delivers instant, context-aware suggestions so you can lead interviews, negotiations, sales calls, presentations, and leadership moments with confidence.

Never Freeze During a Conversation with NexPhrase

NexPhrase feels like an invisible panel of experts cueing the right words in real time so you stay in flow and perform better.”

Sukhman Sandhu, CEO and Founder, Amplinyx Inc.

NexPhrase is built to work in the flow of a live conversation. It analyzes what is being said and surfaces concise, exactly-what-to-say prompts in real time. There is nothing to click during the call, so you stay present while your coach keeps you on track. Amplinyx believes this end-to-end, hands-free guidance is first of its kind at this level of speed and depth.

Alongside live coaching, NexPhrase offers a practice mode to rehearse targeted drills, refine your prompts and context, and review analytics on pacing, filler words, clarity, and more after each session. This combination helps users convert one high-pressure moment into repeatable performance gains.

Available where you work

At launch, NexPhrase will be available on the web, as a Mac desktop app, and as a Windows desktop app, so teams can bring real-time coaching into their existing setup. A free plan makes it easy to get started, with simple upgrades when you are ready for more.

How it works

Getting started is simple: define your moment, speak and get feedback, then master your message with instant suggestions and post-session analytics. NexPhrase transcribes and analyzes your words, tone, and pacing in real time, then provides actionable guidance to help you shape the conversation.

Built in Canada by Amplinix Inc. NexPhrase is created by Amplinix Inc., a Toronto-based company focused on amplifying human potential with advanced AI.

Early testing and how to get involved

The team has been running early tests with encouraging results and is now welcoming additional testers, from individual professionals to large organizations. Amplinix is also seeking content partners to build tutorials and enablement programs that help teams adopt real-time AI coaching. Interested users can join the waitlist to secure early access.

Quote from the founder
