infrastructural projects, heightened overseas investments in real estate, increased demand for commercial spaces, the surge in property valuation needs, and an escalated requirement for regulatory compliance guidance have all contributed to the growth seen during the historic period.

Strong expansion is forecasted for the real estate consulting service market in the coming years, with the market size projected to reach $18.27 billion in 2029, growing at a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 7.6%. This anticipated growth during the forecast period is largely due to the rising adoption of proptech solutions, the growing demand for sustainable real estate consulting, increasing cross-border real estate transactions, a heightened focus on risk assessment services, and a surge in the requirement for individualized investment advisories. Significant trends likely to be seen during this forecast period encompass advancements in AI-powered property analytics, innovative strides in virtual property consultation platforms, the creation of blockchain-based real estate solutions, the evolution of data-focused investment advisory tools, and groundbreaking practices in green building consulting.

What Is The Crucial Factor Driving The Global Real Estate Consulting Service Market?

The surge in property sales is predicted to fuel the expansion of the real estate consulting service market. Property sales encompass the act of transferring property ownership, be it physical or virtual, from a seller to a buyer, in return for financial gain or other forms of remuneration. The acceleration in property sales is attributed to expanding urbanization and population enhancement, as growing urban dwellers necessitate more residential and commercial properties. Real estate consulting services boost property sales by offering in-depth market analysis and strategic counsel, making them key players for buyers, sellers, and investors. These services simplify transactions by delivering legal, financial, and investment counsel, enhancing overall transaction efficiency and decision-making in property trades. For example, as per the United States Census Bureau, a government body based in the US, the sales of new residences stood at 627,000 by June 2025, marking an increase from 634,000 in April 2024. Consequently, the accelerated property sales are contributing to the growth of the real estate consulting service market.
