Amazon's Platinum Delivery Excellence Achievement validates the work our teams do every day,”

Mike Glover - VP of eCommerce Fulfillment

was recently granted Platinum Status by Amazon, the highest level of Delivery Excellence Achievement (DEA) performance in Amazon's Vendor Flex network. This achievement reflects Legacy's strong operating presence in omni-channel and ecommerce fulfillment networks, and commitment to continuous innovation.

The DEA program is Amazon's way of recognizing fulfillment partners who consistently deliver at the very highest levels. To achieve Platinum, partners must sustain the world-class performance standard of 99.8%+ across a range of metrics — including on-time delivery, order accuracy, reliability, inventory optimization, and customer satisfaction — for 12 or more consecutive weeks.

“Amazon's Platinum Delivery Excellence Achievement validates the work our teams do every day,” said Mike Glover, Vice President of eCommerce Fulfillment for Legacy Supply Chain. “It speaks to the precision of our operations, the agility of our people, and our dedication to delivering on our customers' promises. This recognition demonstrates Legacy's expertise in navigating the complexities of retail supply chain.”

Key factors behind Amazon's Platinum recognition include:

- Overall Delivery Performance exceeding 99.8%
- On-Time Delivery Rate consistently exceeds Amazon's rigorous 95%+ standard
- Order Accuracy and Reliability that minimize returns and maximize customer satisfaction
- Technology integration and Real-Time Visibility across the Vendor Flex network

This award highlights Legacy's proven ability to operate at scale in today's most complex fulfillment environments — helping retail and brand partners streamline operations, improve delivery performance, and exceed customer expectations.
