The AI25 Awards celebrate UiPath customers who best showcase the power of agentic automation to redefine what's possible, not just in business, but in the ways we work and live. These organizations have harnessed agentic automation to transform end-to-end processes, blending the strengths of agents, people, and robots. The impact is profound: managers gain more space to mentor, doctors devote more time to care for patients, developers fine-tune their work, engineers gain the freedom to innovate, and customers enjoy the seamless, personalized experience they expect. The 25 winners were selected by a panel of expert judges for effectively articulating the business drivers, implementation strategies, and measurable results of their UiPath solutions.
