Celebrates Journalism Excellence with Wins at Sanlam and Sapoia Awards

Johannesburg, 3 October 2025 - Moneyweb is proud to announce a remarkable night of achievement for its newsroom, with editor and RSG Geldsake host Ryk van Niekerk and journalist Antoinette Slabbert both recognised with coveted honours at two of South Africa's top journalism award ceremonies.

These awards are not just individual milestones, but a testament to the exceptional standards we hold at Moneyweb.”

At the 50th Annual Sanlam Group Awards for Excellence in Financial Journalism, Van Niekerk took home the overall accolade of Sanlam Financial Journalist of the Year, widely considered the highest honour in the field. In addition, he was awarded the Broadcast: Audio/Radio category for his work on RSG Geldsake, South Africa's most listened-to business radio show, produced by Moneyweb for the Afrikaans-language station.

This recognition further underscores the show's impact: RSG Geldsake also won Best Business and Finance Show at the 2024 Telkom SA Radio Awards in December, with a weekday audience of over 166 000 listeners.

On Thursday night, Slabbert was honoured at the 2025 Sapoia Excellence in Property Journalism Awards at Sun City, where she was named Property Feature Journalist of the Year. Her work in explaining complex property and economic issues in clear, accessible terms was celebrated as a vital contribution to South Africa's business journalism landscape.

"These awards are not just individual milestones, but a testament to the exceptional standards we hold at Moneyweb," said Mosehla Gwangwa-Tsebe, operations director of Moneyweb.

"Ryk's achievements reflect his unwavering dedication to quality and integrity, while Antoinette's recognition highlights her ability to cut through complexity in the property sector. Together, they embody Moneyweb's commitment to trusted, impactful financial journalism."

The Sanlam Awards, now in its 50th year, remain the longest-running and most respected honours in financial media across Africa. Expanding continent-wide since 2013, the awards represent the pinnacle of recognition for journalism that shapes understanding of economics, markets, and investment.

Moneyweb's dual success at the Sanlam and Sapo Awards marks a powerful validation of its mission: to deliver credible, independent, and award-winning journalism that empowers South Africans to make informed decisions. For advertisers and partners, these accolades also reinforce the strength of aligning with a platform trusted by decision-makers and investors alike.

As Moneyweb looks ahead, these wins strengthen its resolve to continue raising the bar in financial reporting, ensuring its audiences receive journalism of the highest calibre.
