Technological advancements are reshaping treatment outcomes and expanding the scope of care. North America currently dominates the market, owing to a well-developed veterinary infrastructure, high pet healthcare spending, and the presence of key players such as DePuy Synthes, B. Braun Vet Care, KYON AG, and Orthomed UK. Meanwhile, the Asia-Pacific region is witnessing the fastest growth, supported by increasing pet ownership, expanding veterinary services, and rising awareness of animal health. Strategic collaborations, rising clinical research, and growing investments in pet wellness are expected to continue fueling the market, positioning veterinary orthopedics as a critical and rapidly advancing segment within the global animal health industry.

Market Size:

According to DataM Intelligence, the global veterinary orthopedics market reached US$ 519.78 million in 2023, with a rise to US$ 564.98 million in 2024, and is expected to reach US$1,202.47 million by 2033, growing at a CAGR of 8.7% during the forecast period 2025–2033.

Recent Developments:

- In August 2022, Vimian Group's Movora acquired New Generation Devices (NGD), a New Jersey-based veterinary orthopedic implant company.
