

The RV Shop Expands Product Line with RV Shield Silicone Roof Coating

The RV Shop's line of products now includes RV Shield Silicone Roof Coating, a high-performance protective solution designed for long-lasting roof protection.

NEW CASTLE, DE, UNITED STATES, October 6, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Trusted mobile RV service provider The RV Shop is expanding its service offerings with the addition of RV Shield's Silicone Roof Coating, a high-performance protective solution designed to help RV owners safeguard their vehicles from the elements. This premium roof coating forms a weatherproof protective layer that defends against moisture intrusion, sun exposure, surface degradation, and seasonal wear.

Unlike traditional roof repair methods, RV Shield is non-intrusive and provides a fast turnaround, with most applications completed and cured in just a couple of days. It's compatible with EPDM, TPO, and fiberglass surfaces, making it a versatile choice for a wide range of RVs. The coating also adapts to extreme temperatures and becomes rain-ready quickly, so owners can get back on the road with minimal downtime. The RV Shop backs every installation with a product and workmanship warranty, offering customers peace of mind and lasting confidence in their investment.

"We're always looking for smart solutions that make a real difference for RV owners," said Patrick Connell, Owner and President of The RV Shop. "RV Shield gives our customers a reliable way to protect their roof without long wait times or invasive repairs, and that's precisely the kind of value we want to deliver.”
