Huntsville Medical Assistant School is proud to announce the opening of its newest location in Fall 2025.

HUNTSVILLE, AL, UNITED STATES, October 7, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Huntsville Medical Assistant School is proud to announce the opening of its newest location in Fall 2025. This accelerated program offers aspiring healthcare professionals in Huntsville, Alabama an opportunity to begin meaningful careers in medicine through hands-on, real-world training. Conveniently located at 699 Gallatin St SW, Ste B1, Huntsville, AL, the school is committed to providing accessible, affordable, and practical healthcare education.

"Our program is designed to meet students where they are—offering a faster, more affordable path into the medical field without sacrificing quality or experience," said Holly Capuano, Huntsville Medical Assistant School Program Manager.

Students enrolled in the program receive comprehensive instruction in both clinical and administrative areas of medical assisting. The curriculum blends classroom learning with in-person training, allowing students to apply their skills in a professional healthcare setting.

Affordability remains at the core of the program's mission. With flexible payment plans and a debt-free graduation model, students save thousands of dollars compared to traditional college programs. In just a few months, graduates are ready to pursue employment in a variety of medical environments.

The program trains students in medical terminology, anatomy and physiology, patient communication, laboratory procedures, and medication administration. Additionally, students gain administrative experience in billing, coding, scheduling, and maintaining electronic health records—skills that make them valuable in any clinical office.

"It's an honor to expand our program to Huntsville," said Chris Lofton, CEO of Zollege. "By combining accessible education with hands-on training, we're helping students start meaningful careers while strengthening local healthcare teams."

Graduates of Huntsville Medical Assistant School will be prepared to pursue careers in hospitals, private practices, and specialty clinics throughout northern Alabama. Learn more about the program and enrollment details here. Space is limited.
