Why This Moment Matters:

Artificial intelligence is no longer optional. Studies show that 90% of businesses will rely on AI in some form by 2026 yet most struggle to use it effectively.

By hosting the AI Advantage Summit, Robbins and Graziosi hope to bridge that gap, offering a space where anyone can understand, apply, and thrive with AI.

As Graziosi often says, "The future doesn't belong to those who know everything about technology. It belongs to those who know how to use it."
