This initiative establishes a new benchmark for safe trekking in Nepal, ensuring that adventurers can pursue their Himalayan dreams with confidence, security, and peace of mind.

Everest Base Camp Trek: A Journey to the Foot of the World's Highest Mountain

Among We Ramblers' popular Himalayan adventures, the Everest Base Camp \(EBC\) Trek stands as the ultimate classic. This all-inclusive journey combines the thrill of trekking through the Khumbu region with world-class safety, acclimatization, and cultural immersion. Travelers not only get to experience the grandeur of the world's tallest mountain but also benefit from comprehensive insurance coverage, certified guides, acclimatization hikes, and 24/7 emergency support, making the trek safer and more accessible than ever.

The All-Inclusive EBC Trek Itinerary

The Everest Base Camp Trek begins in Kathmandu (1,400 m / 4,594 ft), where trekkers are welcomed, briefed on safety protocols, and introduced to their guides and fellow adventurers. Depending on flight operations, the journey to Lukla (2,860 m / 9,383 ft) departs either from Kathmandu or Ramechhap. The short but dramatic flight is often considered one of the most scenic in the world.

From Lukla, the trek unfolds gradually:

Phakding (2,652 m / 8,700 ft): The first stop along the Dudh Koshi River, with charming Sherpa villages and prayer wheels dotting the trail.

Namche Bazaar (3,440 m / 11,286 ft): The Sherpa capital and acclimatization hub, offering views of Everest, Lhotse, and Ama Dablam.

Khumjung & Debuche: Cultural immersion with monasteries, Sherpa settlements, and panoramic viewpoints.

Dingboche (4,410 m / 14,468 ft): A vital acclimatization stop with side hikes to Nagarjuna Peak for views of Makalu and Ama Dablam.

Lobuche & Gorakshep: Approaching the Khumbu Glacier, with memorials for fallen climbers at Thukla Pass and unforgettable sunset views of Nuptse.

Everest Base Camp (5,364 m / 17,598 ft): The trek's highlight, offering awe-inspiring views of the Khumbu Icefall.

Kala Patthar (5,644 m / 18,519 ft): A vantage point for the best sunrise view of Everest, Nuptse,

Gokyo Lakes and Gokyo Ri Trek

Everest Three Passes Trek

and Pumori.

The descent follows through Pheriche, Tengboche, Namche, and back to Lukla, before flying out to Kathmandu for a celebratory farewell.

Everest Three Passes Trek: The Ultimate Challenge in the Khumbu Region

The Everest Three Passes Trek stands as one of the most exhilarating and comprehensive journeys in the Himalayas, combining the legendary Everest Base Camp experience with high-altitude challenges that only the boldest adventurers pursue. We Ramblers now offers this trek with enhanced safety features, insurance coverage, and expert guidance, ensuring that trekkers can conquer the highest passes of the Khumbu with confidence.

Three Passes Trek Itinerary Highlights

The Three Passes Trek is a 19-day adventure that starts in the vibrant city of Kathmandu (1,400 m / 4,594 ft) with detailed briefings and equipment checks. From here, trekkers take a scenic flight to Lukla (2,860 m) and begin their journey through Sherpa villages, suspension bridges, and Sagarmatha National Park.

Key stops include:

Namche Bazaar (3,440 m): The Sherpa capital, perfect for acclimatization.

Khumjung & Thame: Culturally rich Sherpa settlements with stunning mountain views.

Renjo La Pass (5,465 m): Offers panoramic vistas of Everest, Cho Oyu, Makalu, and Gokyo Lakes.

Gokyo Ri (5,357 m): One of the best viewpoints of the Everest range.

Cho La Pass (5,368 m): A challenging crossing with close-up views of glaciers.

Everest Base Camp (5,364 m): The iconic destination beneath the Khumbu Icefall.

Kala Patthar (5,644 m): Known for the best sunrise view over Mount Everest.

Kongma La Pass (5,535 m): The most demanding of the three passes, rewarding trekkers with unmatched alpine scenery.

The trek concludes with a celebratory return to Lukla, followed by a flight back to Kathmandu.

Departure Dates 2025

To accommodate global adventurers, We Ramblers has scheduled fixed departures across the prime trekking seasons:

Autumn/Winter 2025:

Gokyo Lakes and Gokyo Ri Trek: A Journey to the Pristine Blue Jewels of the Himalayas

The Gokyo Lakes and Gokyo Ri Trek is one of the most enchanting journeys in the Everest region, blending serene turquoise lakes, glacial valleys, and breathtaking high-altitude panoramas. Offered as a 17-day all-inclusive itinerary by We Ramblers, this trek is designed to provide both adventure and safety for travelers who wish to explore beyond the traditional Everest Base Camp route.

Highlights of the Gokyo Lakes and Gokyo Ri Trek

Explore the sacred Gokyo Lakes, a series of turquoise glacial lakes revered by locals.

Climb Gokyo Ri (5,357 m) for sweeping 180-degree views of Everest, Lhotse, Makalu, Cho Oyu, and the Ngozumpa Glacier.

Visit Sherpa villages like Namche Bazaar, Khumjung, and Dole, experiencing rich Himalayan culture.

Cross the dramatic Cho La Pass (5,420 m), a thrilling yet safe mountain pass crossing.

Walk alongside the Ngozumpa Glacier, the longest glacier in the Himalayas.

Extend the adventure with a visit to Everest Base Camp (5,364 m) and the iconic Kala Patthar viewpoint (5,644 m) for the closest panoramic view of Everest.

Detailed Trek Itinerary

Your adventure begins with a warm welcome in Kathmandu (1,400 m), where you'll be briefed about the trek and meet fellow travelers. The journey then takes you on a short but thrilling flight to Lukla (2,860 m), followed by treks through Phakding (2,652 m) and onwards to Namche Bazaar (3,440 m), the vibrant Sherpa capital.

Acclimatization stops at Khumjung (3,790 m) and Dole (3,950 m) ensure safe altitude adjustment, before continuing through Machhermo (4,470 m) to the breathtaking Gokyo village (4,800 m) by the third lake. From here, trekkers ascend to Gokyo Ri for unforgettable Himalayan views.

The trek continues with visits to the 4th and 5th Gokyo Lakes, a glacier crossing to Thangnak, and a dramatic climb over Cho La Pass before connecting with the classic Everest Base Camp route via Lobuche and Gorakshep. The journey culminates at Everest Base Camp itself, followed by the climb to Kala Patthar for sunrise views of Everest before descending back through Pheriche, Namche, and finally Lukla.
