To become a Certified Dealer, dealerships must be nominated by a Certified Partner and undergo a rigorous evaluation by the Fixed Ops Roundtable Advisory Board. Once certified, dealers commit to sharing best practices over a 12-month period on virtual platforms including podcasts and pop-up events. Branding materials are also provided for all Certified Dealerships, identifying them as Fixed Ops Roundtable Certified.

“It’s an honor to be partnered with Fixed Ops Roundtable, an organization with a culture that promotes excellence through thought leadership collaboration, innovative best practices, and developing future leaders; a mission that aligns with our own,” said Maureen Martin, VP of

Strategic Alliances at Dynatron Software, Inc, a Fixed Ops Roundtable Certified Partner. "We are excited to collaborate with dealers and partners alike to shape and elevate the future of fixed ops, which we all know is critical to dealership net profitability and acquisition growth."

"Fixed Ops Roundtable events consistently showcase evidence that bold innovation transforms fixed ops into a powerhouse of profitability and loyalty," said Thomas Druzynski, Director of Service Operations at West Herr Automotive Group. "We are thrilled to be part of the program and look forward to sharing our best practices."
