Segmentation:

Plastic Materials Dominate Market Due to Its Excellent Properties

Based on material, the market is segmented into plastic, paperboard, and others. The plastic segment is dominating the vacuum packaging market share due to the attractive properties of this material, such as high flexibility, transparency, and thermoformability.

Bags & Pouches Widely Used Due to High Demand for Ensuring Food Safety

Based on product type, the market is segmented into films, bags & pouches, trays, and others. The bags & pouches segment is holding a dominant market position due to the growing demand for ensuring food safety. Bags and pouches play a crucial role in maintaining the quality and freshness of food items, especially during transportation.

Product Use Increases in Food Applications Due to Growing Consumption of Meat & Dairy Items

Based on application, the market is divided into food, healthcare, and others. The food segment captures the largest market share due to the increasing global consumption of meat & dairy products. Vacuum packaging is widely used to pack these items to protect their shelf life. With respect to region, the market covers North America, Europe, Asia Pacific, Latin America, and the Middle East & Africa.

Drivers and Restraints:

Growing Consumption of Packaged Food & Meat Items to Accelerate Market Progress

The global consumption of pre-cooked or packaged foods has grown considerably in recent years due to factors, such as hectic lifestyle and increased disposable income. These factors are also responsible for the high sales of frozen meat products. These items must be packed properly to maintain their freshness, quality, and shelf life. This is boosting the adoption of vacuum packaging products as they protect foods from external elements, such as air, odor, and moisture.

However, the risk of growth of bacteria even in vacuum packaged products can impede their demand among customers.

Regional Insights:

North America Dominates Global Market Due to Advancements in Packaging Technologies

North America is dominating the global market as several reputed manufacturers across the region are bringing advancements to their packaging technologies to safeguard the packed products from contamination. Moreover, the increasing consumption of dairy products is another factor that will favor the region's vacuum packaging market growth.

Asia Pacific is the second-dominant region due to the robust expansion of its meat & dairy industry.

Competitive Landscape:

Key Players to Introduce Novel Packaging Products to Stay Ahead of Market Competition

Some of the key players operating in the market are focusing on launching new and improved vacuum packaging products to enhance the safety of food items. The strong expansion of the packaging sector has also prompted these organizations to introduce smart packaging solutions, thereby helping them stay ahead of the market competition.
