

Verbit Launches Verbit Mobile, Bringing Live Transcription & AI Insights to Professionals On-the-Go

Verbit's new companion app extends the Verbit platform experience to mobile devices

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, October 9, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Verbit, the leading provider of AI-powered transcription and captioning solutions, today announced the launch of Verbit Mobile, designed to give professionals access to real-time transcription and AI-generated insights directly from their mobile devices. Available now on the App Store and Google Play, Verbit Mobile empowers users to capture, transcribe and securely reference captured conversations and digital evidence from anywhere.

Customers rely on Verbit for accuracy, security and innovation. Verbit Mobile is a natural extension — offering the ability to capture every word and access insights wherever their work takes them.”

Jim Holmes, Chief Revenue Officer, Verbit

The app is designed to enhance productivity, bringing Verbit's trusted, real-time transcription technology into a simplified mobile experience. From the courtroom to the classroom, Verbit Mobile provides a seamless way for users to stay connected to critical conversations.

“Our customers rely on Verbit for accuracy, security and innovation,” said Jim Holmes, Chief Revenue Officer, Verbit. “Verbit Mobile is a natural extension of that promise — offering professionals the ability to capture every word and access insights wherever their work takes them.”

Purpose-Built for Professionals on the Move

Verbit Mobile solves critical challenges faced by professionals who need reliable transcription beyond the office:

- Capture everything, anywhere — Record interviews, meetings, lectures or fieldwork directly from mobile
- Real-time transcription & translation — View live transcripts with timestamps and speaker differentiation, with support for translation into dozens of additional languages

- Seamless access & syncing — Review past transcripts on mobile, browse by project and pick up where you left off with files automatically synced to Verbit's web platform
- AI-powered insights — Analyze transcripts and prepare reports with helpful summaries, keywords and chaptering capabilities from the desktop experience

Special Features Designed for the Legal Industry

Verbit Mobile offers specialized features to support work in the legal sector. District attorneys, law enforcement and government agencies can all benefit from the Verbit app, especially when accuracy and timeliness are critical:

- Capture digital evidence — Record and transcribe interviews, interrogations or official statements on the spot
- Save hours of documentation time — Eliminate manual note taking with instant transcription and AI-powered summaries
- Protect & access sensitive information — Media and transcripts are stored securely in the cloud to keep information and critical evidence confidential as it's accessed across devices

Beyond legal, Verbit Mobile offers flexibility for enterprise teams across departments such as human resources, learning & development, marketing, sales and communications, as well as for professionals like market researchers, project managers, educators and others as they work in-office, remotely and on-the-go. The app captures and safeguards important conversations, providing an AI companion to transform voice into searchable, accessible text from anywhere.
