

IT & Digitalization – Timly Brings Structure to Asset Management

From Chaos to Control: How Timly Is Revolutionizing IT Asset Management

ZÜRICH, ZH, SWITZERLAND, October 9, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In many organizations, IT asset management is still plagued by data chaos instead of transparency. Hardware, software licenses, contracts, and user information are often scattered across multiple systems. Many teams still rely on complex Excel spreadsheets or opaque manual lists – a time-consuming process that leads to data gaps, security risks, and compliance issues.

With its cloud-based 360° asset management solution, Timly Software AG provides a central platform where all IT assets – from laptops and servers to software licenses, accessories, and contracts – can be digitally mapped and managed. This gives IT administrators a complete overview of every asset throughout its entire lifecycle, including locations, ownership, maintenance intervals, and license durations.

“Many IT departments spend countless hours tracking devices, updates, or warranty periods,” explains Fitim Mehmeti, Co-Founder of Timly. “With Timly, companies can automate these tasks and establish a single, transparent source of truth for all their IT assets.”

Timly's Key Features and Benefits:

- Centralized Management: All devices, software licenses, and contracts in one unified platform.
