As the Denver-Boulder luxury housing market thrives, demand is soaring for finishes that marry impeccable durability with elegant aesthetics. Market leaders require hospitality-grade surface preparation, premium materials, and specialty finishes that amplify property value and visual appeal. DAECO Painting's Residential Architecture Services answers this demand by offering ultra-smooth new construction painting, artisanal Venetian plaster, limewash, metallic effects, and factory-quality cabinetry

“The line between a stunning architectural design and its real-world execution lies in the details—and finishes are the most critical of those details,” said Don Sanchez, CEO of DAECO Painting. “We launched the Residential Architecture division to fill a crucial market gap: providing a true finish partner who collaborates early and often—from the blueprint stage through final walkthrough. We don’t just apply paint; we help execute the architect’s vision with precision and artistry. This division sets the new gold standard for finish contractors.”

Why General Contractors and Builders Choose DAECO Painting

With more than two decades serving Colorado’s luxury homebuilders, DAECO is synonymous with unmatched craftsmanship and reliability. Certified master painters and OSHA-compliant, fully licensed, insured, and bonded crews expertly handle projects ranging from intimate 1,000-square-foot interiors to expansive 30,000-square-foot estates. Builders rely on DAECO’s dedicated project managers for transparent, line-item estimates and proactive coordination to maintain on-time delivery and seamless multi-phase scheduling.

Builders praise DAECO’s accountability—full in-house crews without subcontracting brokers—and superior on-site problem-solving, key factors in their success. This partnership-driven approach ensures premium finishes that protect builders’ reputations and satisfy the most exacting clients.

DAECO Painting is the trusted partner repeatedly chosen by Colorado’s most respected developers and builders, such as Accent Contracting, Concord Custom Homes, Cherry Creek Builders and Goldberg Development. Their confidence reinforces DAECO’s position as Denver-Boulder’s premier painting contractor for luxury residential construction.

Tailored Collaboration for Architects and Interior Designers

DAECO Painting transcends traditional contractor roles to become a vital partner to architects and interior designers eager to realize their creative vision. Offering digital color consultation, finish previews, and flexible collaboration, DAECO’s artisans masterfully apply Venetian plaster, limewash, and specialty cabinetry coatings to diverse architectural styles—from Contemporary Mediterranean to Spanish Colonial Revival. Their proactive involvement from framing rough-in to warranty walkthrough ensures every design detail translates flawlessly to the finished space,
