ANZZI reports growing demand for brushed gold bathroom glass shower doors as homeowners embrace warmer tones and mixed-metal design schemes.

NY, UNITED STATES, October 10, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- ANZZI, a design-led manufacturer of bath and kitchen fixtures, reports a marked uptick in customer demand for brushed gold finishes across its bathroom glass shower doors collection. While matte black remains a mainstay for modern, minimal interiors, the company notes that brushed gold is increasingly selected by homeowners and pros seeking warmer, spa-inspired spaces and cohesive mixed-metal schemes.

The shift aligns with broader 2025 bathroom design patterns favoring natural materials, softened silhouettes, and warm metallics that add depth without glare. In glass enclosures, brushed gold hardware provides a refined counterpoint to clear or fluted tempered glass, pairing well with light stone, plaster-look tiles, and wood vanities.

Brushed gold momentum within ANZZI's shower door lineup

ANZZI's portfolio includes multiple brushed gold options across sliding and fixed-panel formats. Representative models include:

- ANZZI Series 44–48 in. x 76 in. Frameless Sliding Shower Door in Brushed Gold — clear tempered glass with sleek, low-profile hardware designed for smooth gliding and easy maintenance.
- ANZZI Series 56–60 in. x 76 in. Frameless Sliding Shower Door in Brushed Gold — engineered for wider openings while maintaining a minimalist sightline.
- Himmel Series 34 in. x 78 in. Fixed Frameless Shower Door in Brushed Gold — a versatile fixed panel that visually enlarges compact baths and showcases feature tile.

- Madam Series Frameless Sliding Shower Door — available in multiple finishes and sizes with clear tempered glass; a flexible choice for primary and secondary baths.

Many models feature ANZZI's use of tempered clear glass and precision-engineered hardware for dependable stability and day-to-day durability. Select series specify Tsunami Guard tempered clear glass in product listings, a detail valued by remodelers focused on clarity and long-term performance.

Why brushed gold with bathroom glass shower doors

Beyond aesthetics, brushed gold hardware is practical in working baths. The lightly textured finish helps soften the appearance of fingerprints and watermarks compared to high-polish surfaces, and it reads as warm under both natural and artificial light. In glass enclosures, that warmth balances the crisp lines of frameless edges and the transparency of clear tempered glass.

Designers also note brushed gold's flexibility across styles: it can lean modern with rectilinear pulls and slim tracks, transitional alongside marble veining and classic mosaics, or coastal with driftwood tones and linen-textured tiles. For households mixing finishes, brushed gold pairs cleanly with matte black accessories and brushed nickel plumbing, allowing layered, personalized schemes.
