About LHM Partners

LHM Partners is a doctor-owned organization purpose-built to help longevity, hormone, and lifestyle medicine practices grow while preserving practitioner control and equity. The company’s model was formed by clinicians who recognized gaps in traditional healthcare and designed a partnership approach that enhances equity and control for practitioners.

LHM Partners supports practices through two core pillars:

Value Creation & Exit Planning — Aligning like-minded practices to increase leverage and prepare owners for a successful future exit. The partnership aims to retain more equity within the practitioner group; partners have the option (not obligation) to participate in a future sale with a potential 10–12x equity return.

Practice Management Services — Operational support that includes business growth & marketing, HR compliance, medical practice accounting & financial reporting, legal, and pricing & procurement — all tailored to longevity, hormone, and lifestyle medicine.

Why Join the LHM Partners Network

Maintain control over clinical decisions while leveraging enterprise-grade infrastructure. Increase practice value through network purchasing power, strategic planning, and exit readiness.

Reduce isolation with a collaborative, practitioner-led community focused on growth, quality, and shared standards.

“LHM Partners was built by physicians to help peers grow on their own terms,” said Kristen Cusack, CEO. “I’m looking forward to sharing practical pricing and compensation strategies that support sustainable, patient-centered practices.”
