

Qbic and DENEVA Partner to Deliver Next-Gen Sustainable Digital Signage Experiences

NEW TAIPEI CITY, TAIWAN, October 16, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Qbic Technology and DENEVA have announced a strategic partnership to address the digital signage industry's biggest challenges: scalability, seamless integration, and sustainable operation. By combining Qbic's ePaper series with DENEVA platform, the alliance delivers an energy-efficient, real-time solution that transforms displays into intelligent tools for communication, engagement, and growth.

At the heart of this collaboration are Qbic's 4-inch EP-0400 and 7-inch EP-0700 ePaper devices—lightweight, versatile, and engineered for 24/7 visibility—seamlessly integrated with DENEVA's powerful content management system. Together, they empower organizations to automate updates, cut energy costs, and scale deployments across retail, transit, and enterprise environments while ensuring consistent, accurate information delivery.

"Audiences today don't just want to see information. They expect it to be delivered reliably and in real time," said Vincent Chen, Director of Product Management at Qbic Technology. "By combining our purpose-built ePaper series with the DENEVA platform, we're enabling organizations to communicate at scale in a way that is not only energy efficient and cost-saving, but also aligned with growing ESG and sustainability goals."

For retailers, the solution makes it easy to update pricing, promotions, and product information instantly across hundreds of stores, ensuring consistency and reducing manual labor. In corporate and institutional settings, centralized management allows teams to schedule and broadcast updates across campuses, meeting rooms, and shared spaces without the burden of
