expected to increase from $336.27 billion in 2024 to $362.89 billion in 2025, presenting a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 7.9%. This historical growth trend can be credited to factors such as the expansion of commercial real estate, the prevalence of outsourcing, health and safety legislation, the importance of corporate image and branding, and increased public consciousness about hygiene.

The market size for janitorial services is anticipated to witness robust development in the upcoming years, expanding to $499.6 billion by 2029, with an 8.3% compound annual growth rate (CAGR). The projected growth for the forecast period can be traced back to factors such as the heightened emphasis on green cleaning, increasing need for specialized cleaning services, the practice of remote and flexible workspaces, concerns over health and safety, and collaborations with facility management firms. Key forecasts for the same period revolve around the implementation of technology in cleaning processes, forward strides in cleaning equipment technology, the uptake of green cleaning methods, the emergence of smart cleaning tech, and enhanced training and certification programs.

What Are The Major Factors Driving The Janitorial Services Global Market Growth?

The surge in demand for the real estate sector is anticipated to fuel the expansion of the janitorial service market in the future. Being anything permanently attached to or built on land, either naturally or artificially, real estate necessitates janitorial services to keep the construction site devoid of dust, filth, and unpleasant smells. These services pay considerable attention to concerns such as stained appliances, damaged carpets, and discolored surfaces to ensure that houses are ready for meticulous inspection. For example, the Monthly New Residential Sales, September 2024, report released by the US Census Bureau, a US federal statistical entity, revealed in September 2024, the sales of new single-family homes in the U.S. attained a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 738,000, an increase of 4.1% from August and 6.3% from September 2023. The median sales price was listed as $426,300 and the average price as $501,000. As a result, the burgeoning demand in the real estate sector is bolstering the janitorial service market's growth.
