Sustainable Travel and Human Connection Expert, Michaela Guzy's Viral Series Greenlit for Season 4 on Modern Luxury's New M/LUX APP

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, October 14, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- While everybody was at home during the height of the pandemic in June 2020, Michaela Guzy gave up her home in NYC - along with all her belongings- to start "SLEEPING AROUND SAFELY" an idea she conceived to show the world that it would soon be safe to travel again - she has been houseless not homeless ever since. This jetset digital nomad has traveled to over 120 countries and invites viewers to snuggle in with her at the world's best hotels, cruise lines and even safari tents.

“During the dark days of the pandemic, when I almost lost my business, I lost my love and my home, I realized I had an important role in working alongside the travel industry to get the world back on the road again, safely. I poured my heart and soul into the ever changing storytelling around being a single woman navigating the globe as the world reopened. In a million years, I would have never guessed how viral the show would become or that I would still be houseless over five years later! Every crisis breeds innovation and it's so exciting to see how "SLEEPING AROUND SAFELY" continues to evolve. To celebrate five years, we created a new show opener for the series," says Michaela Guzy, Creator, Executive Producer + Curator of Local Hosts.

Guzy adds, "The real question is, can you guess where we are 'SLEEPING AROUND SAFELY' next?"
