What Are The Current Leading Growth Drivers For Automatic Weapons Market?

The automatic weapon market is predicted to grow due to increasing military spending. The term military expenditure refers to any finances allocated towards weapons, weaponry systems, operations and maintenance, personnel, and other specific military machinery. Substantial government funds devoted to military often lead to the enhancement of different sectors within the military market, including that of automatic weapons. To illustrate, the US Air Force, an American agency, recorded a request in their 2024 fiscal year budget for about $215.1 billion, a rise of $9.3 billion or 4.5% from the fiscal year 2023, as reported by the United States Air Force (USAF) in March 2023. This escalation in military spending plays a key role in driving the automatic weapon market.

Which Companies Are Currently Leading In The Automatic Weapons Market?

What Are The Main Trends, Positively Impacting The Growth Of Automatic Weapons Market?

The trend towards product innovations is gaining traction within the automatic weapon market. In order to maintain a competitive edge, leading firms in this sector are pushing out new products. A good example is Barrett Firearms, a manufacturer of firearms from the United States. In October 2024, they unveiled the SSRS 30mm semi-automatic grenade launcher. This automatic grenade launcher from Barrett SSRS comes with enhanced power and counter-defilade capabilities, which fits the U.S. Army's Precision Grenadier System (PGS) Program specifications, improving the efficiency of soldiers in diverse combat environments. It boasts an accessible design similar to an assault rifle, featuring a rear stock, a five-round ammunition magazine, a compact design with a total length of 861mm, and a weight of only 6.3kg. The launcher has the ability to discharge a range of ammo, including airburst rounds, offering a decisive edge on the battlefield. Also, it comes furnished with a Vortex Optics XM-157 sight, akin to the one present on the U.S. Army's XM7 6.8mm assault rifle, which enhances precision and aligns with the Army's modernization goals.
