Brownwood has partnered with PlanetBids to bring greater efficiency, transparency, and structure to its procurement operations. Through the adoption of PlanetBids' solutions for Bid Management, Vendor Management, and Project Evaluation Management, the City is replacing its previously manual, paper-based system with a modern, digital procurement platform. PlanetBids is backed by Capstreet.

Previously, all bid postings were advertised through the City's website and local newspapers. With a high volume of bids released annually, many of which are complex Request for Quotes (RFQs) or Request for Proposals (RFPs), the step-by-step manual process had become cumbersome and time-intensive for the City.

PlanetBids' end-to-end solution for digital procurement operations will eliminate the manual, time-consuming administrative work and allow the City to focus on more strategic budget usage.

Key Benefits for the City of Brownwood Include:

- Streamlined Bid Management: The platform allows the City to efficiently create, post, and track solicitations while automating notifications to vendors.
- Enhanced Vendor Engagement: With PlanetBids, vendors can self-register, receive bid alerts, get automatic addenda and Q&A notifications, and submit responses electronically, increasing competition and outreach.
- Simplified RFQ/RFP Evaluation: The Project Evaluation module enables side-by-side comparisons of proposals, scoring across multiple rounds, and centralized evaluator feedback, all with full audit tracking for improved transparency and fairness.

- Regulatory Compliance and Time Savings: Automation reduces manual entry and ensures compliance while making the entire procurement process more transparent and accessible.

"The City of Brownwood's move to PlanetBids highlights how smaller teams can make big strides with the right tools," said Dave DiGiacomo, CEO of PlanetBids. "We're proud to support their mission to modernize and streamline their procurement operations."

Vendors interested in working with the City of Brownwood can register for free and access bid opportunities at the City's vendor portal.
