TORQ is my life's purpose. I built it for every athlete who was told their time had passed, who got overlooked, or who didn't fit the system.”

moment years in the making: TORQ Sports, the athlete-first sports platform founded by former college baseball player and entrepreneur, Jake Baer, launches publicly during LA Tech Week.

The event features a panel led by Olympic medalist and fencing superstar Nick Itkin, culminating in a live reveal of the TORQ Sports App by Baer himself.

MEET THE FACES BEHIND THE MOVEMENT

Jake Baer is more than a founder, he's the proof of concept. After a promising baseball career derailed by setbacks, injuries, and self-doubt, Jake rebuilt from the ground up. Through perseverance, self-improvement, and hard lessons, he discovered a deeper mission: to revolutionize the recruiting system that failed so many athletes like him. TORQ was born from that vision, transforming his story of redemption into a tool for empowerment.

Nick Itkin brings his elite perspective to the launch stage. As a two-time Olympic bronze medalist, NCAA champion, and one of Team USA's most decorated fencers, Itkin has built his reputation on precision, discipline, and leadership. His insights on how technology redefines athlete access and opportunity make him an ideal voice to guide the conversation at TORQ's debut.

BUILT BY ATHLETES, FOR ATHLETES

TORQ is more than an app, it's a movement.

A place where athletes connect, compete, and get discovered without agendas, paywalls, or outdated systems.

It's a social and recruiting platform built to empower the next generation with tools to take control of their journey.

Every athlete deserves a platform.
TORQ gives them one.

THE EXPERIENCE

In one seamless ecosystem, users can:

- Build their personal athlete profile
- Post highlights, stats, and achievements
- Connect with teammates, fans, and recruiters
- Get discovered, without the middlemen

It's free, intuitive, and built for 2025, not 2005. A one-stop shop for every athlete chasing the dream.

THE WHY

"TORQ is my life's purpose. I built it for every athlete who was told their time had passed, who got overlooked, or who didn't fit the system," says Jake Baer, Founder & CEO of TORQ Sports. "I know what it's like to live through the broken recruiting process, the lost opportunities, and the mental toll. TORQ exists so the next generation of athletes never have to feel that way."

From the ashes of a baseball career rises a vision to rebuild the system. This time, from the inside out. TORQ represents not just the evolution of recruiting, but the redefinition of athlete culture.

THE MOMENT

The LA Tech Week stage isn't just a launch, it's a statement.

As Nick Itkin leads a conversation about performance, technology, and the athlete's path, Jake Baer unveils TORQ's platform to a captivated audience.

What they witness isn't just another app release, it's the beginning of a new era for athlete empowerment.
