

Loren Data Corp. Launches ECGrid Assist AI Agent for Boomi Marketplace

The ECGrid Assist AI Agent highlights an expanded business relationship between Loren Data and Boomi for optimized B2B operations.

MARINA DEL REY, CA, UNITED STATES, October 15, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Loren Data Corp, a leading provider of B2B connectivity and EDI network services, today announced the availability of ECGrid Assist, an AI-powered agent now offered through the Boomi Marketplace program.

ECGrid Assist enables Boomi users to connect directly with Loren Data's ECGrid network, providing fast, secure access to key EDI information through a simple chatbot interface. With the agent, users can:

- Retrieve information about documents sent or received on the ECGrid VAN
- Query trading partner routing information
- Access details about their ECGrid mailbox

“

ECGrid Assist brings the power of AI directly into the Boomi ecosystem. It simplifies EDI queries and enhances the way teams access their trading partner and document information.”

Michelle Jacobson, VP of Product Management at Loren Data

By integrating ECGrid Assist into their Boomi environment, customers gain streamlined access to daily EDI operations without the need to manually search the ECGrid portal.

“ECGrid Assist brings the power of AI directly into the Boomi ecosystem,” said Michelle Jacobson, VP, Product Management at Loren Data. “It simplifies EDI queries and enhances the way teams access their trading partner and document information, saving time and improving efficiency.”
