The product offers firms a quick, affordable way to establish a professional online presence, with the flexibility to expand into the full Blueprints catalog when they are ready.

Blueprint Foundations, the newest product from Recruiters Websites, is a collection of one-page starter websites built specifically for recruiting firms and priced at $2,500

As part of the launch, Recruiters Websites is opening a limited project queue to deliver Foundations websites to recruiters who sign up before the end of the year. Only 25 spots are available, and firms must reserve their project by Dec. 1, 2025, to secure a spot in the introductory queue. Blueprint Foundations are priced at $2,500.

With Blueprint Foundations, we’re making it even easier for firms to get started, and we’ve created a direct path to grow their websites alongside their businesses.”

Jeff Gipson, founder and CEO of Recruiters Website

“Not every firm is ready to invest in a full website build,” said Jeff Gipson, founder and CEO of Recruiters Websites. “Foundations gives startups and smaller firms an affordable way to get online quickly, while laying the groundwork for a larger website in the future.”

Each Blueprint Foundations site includes a professionally designed, recruiter-focused one-page layout aligned with one of the six Blueprint designs.

Features include:

- Fully branded design and recruiter-specific content

- Responsive, mobile-optimized layout
- Built-in SEO foundation
- Optional career portal integration
- Seamless upgrade path to a full Blueprint site

Blueprints were first introduced in 2023, offering firms affordable, recruiter-specific websites with customizable designs. More than 100 recruiting firms have launched with Blueprints since its debut, and Foundations is the first expansion of the product line.

“With Foundations, we’re making it even easier for firms to get started, and we’ve created a direct path to grow their websites alongside their businesses,” Gipson said.
