Owned and operated by JC Poroj, Family First Events & Rentals has become a go-to resource for clients in Fort Myers who value professionalism, safety, and tailored service. The company's growing presence in the event rental market reflects a larger trend across Florida, where the popularity of outdoor events is being driven by favorable weather, scenic venues, and the desire for flexible gathering spaces. Family First is responding to this trend by offering an expanded selection of tents and comprehensive support to ensure clients can host memorable, well-executed events no matter the size or complexity.

The company's Fort Myers tent rentals services now include a broader range of tent structures designed to accommodate everything from small backyard parties to large-scale corporate and community events. Clients can choose from various tent styles, including frame tents ideal for uneven terrain or limited space, pole tents that provide open interior layouts and classic aesthetics, and high-peak tents that offer a modern and elegant appearance. Each tent can be customized with sidewalls, clear or windowed panels, and a full suite of add-ons, including flooring, climate control, and lighting to match the style and functional needs of the event.

Every rental includes delivery, professional installation, and breakdown, with all logistics handled by experienced crew members who follow stringent safety and permitting guidelines. Family First Events & Rentals works closely with local officials to ensure all installations meet regulatory standards, especially when events are held in public or commercial spaces. Equipment is maintained to the highest standards, regularly inspected, and cleaned before and after each use to guarantee optimal condition and presentation.

Beyond tents, the company provides a full catalog of event rental essentials, allowing clients to source all major components of their event infrastructure from one trusted partner. Offerings include tables, chairs, linens, lighting fixtures, fans, heaters, décor elements, and other event accessories. By consolidating services through Family First Events & Rentals, clients benefit from simplified coordination, consistent quality, and a single point of contact throughout the planning and execution process.

We're proud to be the go-to for Fort Myers tent rentals, delivering quality setups that bring our clients' events to life.”

J.C. Poroj, CEO of Family First Events & Rentals

Family First Events & Rentals serves a diverse range of clients throughout Fort Myers and Lee County, including private individuals planning weddings or milestone celebrations, corporate entities hosting employee functions or product launches, nonprofit organizations holding fundraising galas or community outreach events, and event planners coordinating festivals, religious ceremonies, and public performances. Regardless of the event type, the company provides personalized consultations, layout planning assistance, and support to ensure that each setup is functional, attractive, and appropriate for the venue and anticipated guest count.

The Fort Myers tent rentals expansion also reflects the company's strategic investment in staffing and operational infrastructure. By growing its team of trained installers and logistical coordinators, Family First can now accommodate larger events, overlapping schedules, and urgent requests without sacrificing the attention to detail that defines its service model.

Owner JC Poroj credits the company's success to its "family first" approach, which prioritizes relationships, reliability, and respect for the client's vision. This philosophy is embedded in every part of the business—from transparent pricing and responsive communication to punctual delivery and clean, high-quality equipment. Clients appreciate the sense of trust and accountability that comes with working with a locally owned company that treats every event as if it were their own.

According to Poroj, the expansion is not just about business growth, but about meeting a real need in the Fort Myers community. He notes that outdoor venues are in high demand across the region, particularly during Florida's fall, winter, and spring event seasons. By increasing capacity and diversifying tenting options, Family First Events & Rentals is helping more residents and organizations create safe, comfortable, and beautiful event environments regardless of the weather or venue limitations.

“Planning an event can be overwhelming, especially when weather and space are a concern,” said Poroj. “We’re proud to be the go-to for Fort Myers tent rentals, delivering quality setups that bring our clients’ events to life.”

With the expanded inventory and service capabilities now in place, Family First Events & Rentals is accepting bookings for the remainder of 2025 and into the 2026 peak season. The company encourages early reservations for major holidays, wedding weekends, and seasonal festivals, which often require advance planning due to high demand for both tents and accompanying rental items.

Clients interested in learning more about the company’s Fort Myers tent rentals services can view available options, review pricing, and submit rental inquiries directly through the website at <https://familyfirsteventsandrentals.com/rentals>
