based EU bank with extensive experience in structuring Actively Managed Certificates (AMCs), Exchange Traded Products (ETPs), and fund solutions, has joined AMC Creator as its newest execution partner. With a comprehensive in-house infrastructure covering issuance, custody, paying agent, and collateral services, Bank Frick contributes proven expertise and regulatory strength to the platform.

Expanding the Partner Ecosystem

Bank Frick has been active in the AMC business for many years, providing a complete end-to-end setup for asset managers and promoters through its regulated European infrastructure. Launched in July 2025, AMC Creator is the world's first universal configurator enabling financial professionals to structure any asset or strategy into Actively Managed Certificates in a streamlined and cost-efficient way. The platform's intuitive four-step interface supports everything from conventional equities and bonds to digital assets, alternative investments, and exotic strategies. It removes traditional infrastructure barriers and makes sophisticated product structuring accessible to asset managers, family offices, and financial advisors of all sizes.

Bank Frick's addition underscores the growing momentum behind AMC Creator's mission to democratize sophisticated product structuring. As a digital-forward private bank with a long track record in structured products, Bank Frick enhances AMC Creator through its established European issuance framework, which includes Liechtenstein ISINs, EU passporting, and integrated custody and paying agent services that deliver cost efficiency and operational simplicity.

"We're building an open platform designed for industry-wide expansion, and Bank Frick exemplifies the kind of innovative partner that strengthens our ecosystem," said Philippe A. Naegeli, CEO of GenTwo. "Their expertise in digital assets combined with their competitive cost structure supports our mission to make sophisticated product creation accessible to asset managers of all sizes. This is exactly the kind of partnership that advances democratization in financial markets."

"Combining GenTwo's powerful platform with Bank Frick's proven AMC and ETP expertise creates a new level of efficiency and reach for asset managers across Europe. Our regulated infrastructure enables seamless execution, custody, and settlement within the EU, all under one roof," said Roman Wildhaber, Head of Capital Market Solutions, Bank Frick AG.

Through this partnership, GenTwo and Bank Frick together provide financial professionals with an end-to-end solution that combine digital innovation with full regulatory reliability.
