Evaluations Driven by Real Buyer Experience

For five years, Guide Immo's annual ranking has served as a trusted resource for buyers seeking reliable insights into new real estate projects. Each project is assessed through a numerical rating system based on verified buyer feedback—offering an authentic, data-driven perspective that empowers consumers to make informed investment decisions.

"Our ranking continues to grow in recognition, largely thanks to the steady increase in user engagement," said Mercedes Coutu, Co-Founder of Guide Immo.

"Over the past four years, interactions on our platform have surged by 460%, and a significant portion of these users take the time to rate the projects they visit. That level of participation is what gives our ranking its credibility."

The 2025 edition highlights 23 residential projects distinguished by their design, amenities, pricing, and community features. From Montréal's urban condos to regional developments, these projects reflect the vitality of Québec's real estate landscape and the growing demand for
