"The Inc. 5000 recognizes grit, execution, and real-world results," said Jeff Klaumann, President of Collective 54. "Seeing so many of our members on this year's list underscores that boutique firms can out-learn and out-perform the market when they focus on a sharp niche, a repeatable commercial engine, and an elite team. I am proud of these members.”

Member Perspectives

“Our growth came from saying ‘no’ to distractions and going all-in on a narrow problem we solve exceptionally well. Being recognized by the Inc. 5000 is a reflection of disciplined execution by a gritty, customer-obsessed team.” James D. Wilton, Senior Partner & CEO | Founder, Monevate
www.monevate.com

“Our investment in employee growth directly translates to our client success. When we invest in the development of our team, that passion and progress flow through every Salesforce project we deliver. We're honored to be recognized with this award and strive to keep moving faster.” Adam Blake, COO, Magna Technology Group www.magnatech.io

“We chose the name Acru because it means to grow steadily over time — a reflection of our belief in intentional, principled growth. Being recognized on the Inc. 5000 is a meaningful validation of that vision, but we see it as a measure of progress, not the finish line. We’re still growing, still learning, and still pushing for what’s next and we appreciate the insights we get every day from members of C54.” Annie Carlon, Partner, Acru Solutions
