

One All Sports Partners with Evertreen to Drive a Greener Future for Motorsport Fans

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, October 20, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In a powerful step toward sustainability, One All Sports, a global leader in sustainable sportswear apparel and innovative teamwear, has partnered with Evertreen, an international reforestation platform, to support environmental regeneration through tree planting.

They have gone one step further to plant more trees through every purchase received from their loyal customers from their online orders. They're on a mission to also encourage their B2B customers to join the initiative.

Racing Toward a Sustainable Tomorrow

With over two decades of experience designing high-performance sportswear for Motorsports, Football, Rugby, Volleyball, Basketball enthusiasts and professional teams, Oneallsports has always been driven by passion and precision. Now, through its collaboration with Evertreen, the company channels that same energy into protecting the planet—planting trees in areas where reforestation is most needed.

This initiative not only helps absorb CO<sub>2</sub> emissions but also supports local farming communities and restores biodiversity in critical ecosystems. Each tree planted represents a small but meaningful victory for the planet—mirroring the spirit of dedication and teamwork that defines motorsport itself.

From the Track to the Earth

By joining Evertreen's network of global partners, Oneallsports is reaffirming its commitment to sustainability and social impact in communities, proving that performance and purpose can move forward together.

From the C.E.O & Founder - David Mendelsohn

As a global brand rooted in nature's resources, we believe it's our duty to give back to the planet that sustains us. Donating trees is more than a gesture — it's an investment in cleaner air, richer soil, and a greener future for generations to come. Every thread we weave carries a promise of responsibility and renewal.
