Driving Enterprise Resilience Through Proof of Value Program

Apiagne Inc. enhances enterprise resilience through its 90-Day Proof-of-Value pilot program, empowering businesses to achieve measurable uptime, accelerate incident response with Splunk-powered observability, strengthen cybersecurity posture via proactive threat detection, and reduce operational costs by streamlining Level 1 support workflows.

Designed for industries such as retail, fintech, and healthcare, the program delivers real-time insights, operational stability, and data-backed ROI validation before any long-term engagement.

Apiagne's Level 1 Support Services, delivered by certified IT professionals and powered by Splunk's analytics engine, provide 24/7 help desk and incident management, real-time system monitoring, preliminary root cause identification, complemented by SLA-driven performance reporting — ensuring uninterrupted reliability, optimized IT operations, and measurable business resilience.

A Smarter Way to Onboard IT Excellence

Unlike traditional “free trial” offers, the Apiagne 90-Day Proof-of-Value Program is a structured pilot engagement designed to prove business impact through real-time performance data and ROI-driven results.

We don't just say we can improve your operations — we prove it. This program gives clients a tangible, data-backed experience of our 24/7 Splunk-powered operations before any financial commitment.”

Maurice Kamgaing, President & CEO of Apiagne Inc.

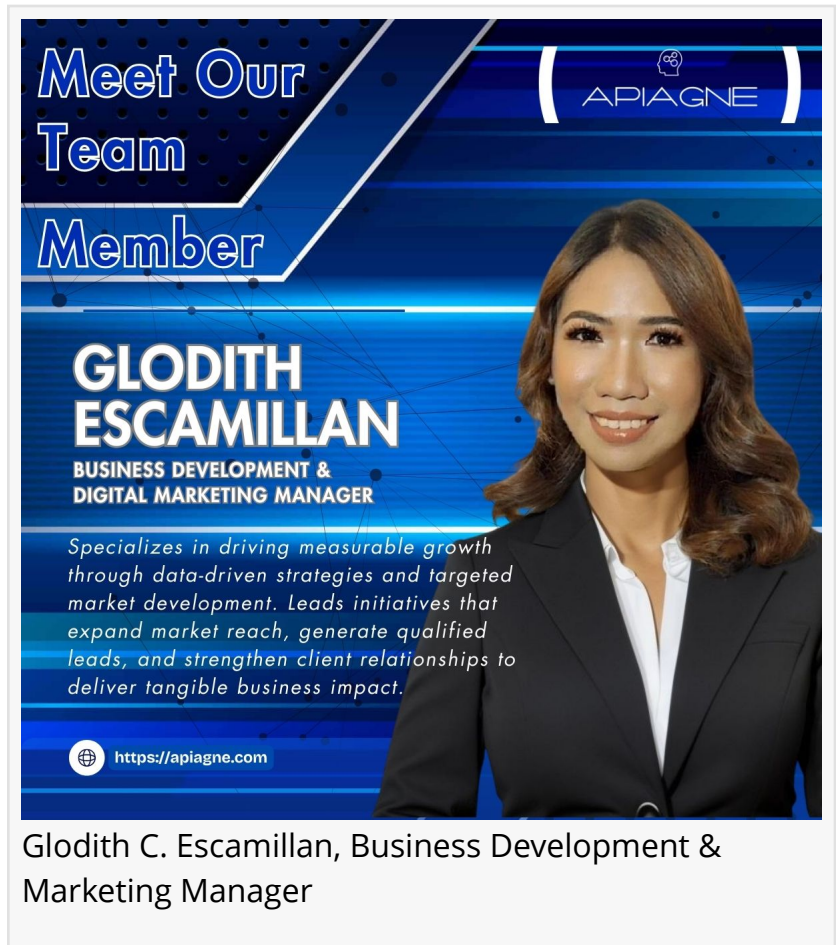

Each participant receives:

- A clearly defined scope of engagement (L1 support, alert triage, observability dashboards)
- Baseline assessment and onboarding consultation
- Mid-term performance report (availability, latency, security metrics)
- Final Proof-of-Value report showing measurable improvements and ROI insights

“We don't just say we can improve your operations — we prove it,” said Maurice Kamgaing, President & CEO of Apiagne Inc.

“This program gives clients a tangible, data-backed experience of our 24/7 Splunk-powered operations before any financial commitment. It's transparency, accountability, and innovation in action.”
