

AAA Heating and Plumbing Increases Fleet to Meet Growing Demand for Same-Day Furnace and Plumbing Service in Calgary

AAA Heating and Plumbing expands its Calgary fleet to meet rising demand for same-day plumbing and furnace repair, reinforcing its commitment to reliability.

CALGARY, AB, CANADA, October 17, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- AAA Heating and Plumbing, a locally owned and operated Calgary company with over 20 years of experience, has announced a 25% fleet expansion to meet the city's growing demand for same-day emergency plumbing and furnace repair services. The company's newly wrapped trucks, now seen throughout Calgary, reflect AAA's ongoing investment in customer care, rapid response, and high-quality workmanship.

As Calgary continues to experience unpredictable temperature swings and aging home infrastructure, the need for immediate heating and plumbing solutions has never been greater. AAA Heating and Plumbing's new fleet allows the company to dispatch technicians more efficiently across the city and surrounding communities—ensuring faster arrival times, reduced wait periods, and reliable service when customers need it most.

"When your furnace fails in the middle of winter or a pipe bursts unexpectedly, every minute counts," said a spokesperson for AAA Heating and Plumbing. "Expanding our fleet means more technicians on the road, more coverage across Calgary, and faster response times for the homeowners and businesses who count on us."

AAA Heating and Plumbing's reputation has been built on dependable, same-day solutions for urgent home repairs. The expanded fleet will support 24/7 emergency service throughout Calgary, Airdrie, Chestermere, Okotoks, and surrounding areas. Each vehicle is fully stocked with advanced diagnostic tools, genuine replacement parts, and state-of-the-art equipment, enabling technicians to resolve most issues on the very first visit.

Emergency Plumbing
Furnace Repair

The company specializes in emergency furnace repair, boiler and water heater services, and 24-hour plumbing solutions for leaks, blockages, and burst pipes. From older homes in established Calgary neighborhoods to newer builds, AAA's team provides professional, efficient service tailored to each property's unique needs.

Unlike many service providers, AAA Heating and Plumbing takes pride in maintaining honest, transparent pricing—with no hidden fees and clear quotes provided upfront. The company's approach is designed to help homeowners make informed decisions and avoid unexpected costs.

AAA's technicians are also known for their attention to cleanliness and respect for customers' homes. Every visit includes a signature "red carpet service"—technicians lay down protective coverings throughout the work area to keep floors spotless and ensure a clean, mess-free repair experience.

"We understand that inviting a technician into your home is personal," said a senior technician with AAA Heating and Plumbing. "That's why we take every step to protect your space, communicate clearly, and deliver the kind of professionalism that makes people feel comfortable and confident."

Being locally owned and operated, AAA Heating and Plumbing understands the unique challenges of Calgary's climate and home systems. The company's 20-plus years of service have built a strong foundation of trust, reliability, and customer satisfaction. Whether it's responding to frozen pipes during a cold snap or performing a same-day furnace restart in the middle of a blizzard, AAA's team of certified professionals has seen—and solved—nearly every kind of heating and plumbing emergency Calgary can throw at them.

"Our customers aren't just clients—they're our neighbors," added the spokesperson. "This fleet expansion is a reflection of our promise to be there for Calgary families when they need us, day or night."

The new trucks not only improve AAA's logistical coverage but also reflect the company's forward-thinking approach to operations. The vehicles are wrapped in AAA's recognizable branding, making them an increasingly familiar sight on Calgary roads. Each truck is equipped with digital dispatch and inventory systems, allowing real-time updates between technicians and the company's support team—minimizing downtime and maximizing efficiency.

This 25% expansion also supports AAA's growing commercial service division, which provides customized heating, cooling, and plumbing maintenance programs for local businesses. With more vehicles and additional skilled technicians, AAA is well positioned to meet the rising service expectations of Calgary's residential and commercial sectors alike.

While AAA Heating and Plumbing is best known for its same-day emergency response, the company also offers preventive maintenance and installation services to help customers avoid future problems. Seasonal furnace tune-ups, plumbing inspections, and HVAC system upgrades all play a key role in extending the lifespan of home systems and preventing costly breakdowns. Homeowners are encouraged to schedule maintenance before the peak of Calgary's winter season to ensure efficiency, safety, and peace of mind.

From the first phone call to the final cleanup, AAA Heating and Plumbing remains focused on providing the highest standard of service. The company's dedication to reliability, transparent pricing, and customer communication has earned it a loyal base of repeat clients and strong word-of-mouth referrals. As the company continues to grow, its leadership remains committed to maintaining the personalized, community-driven approach that has defined AAA Heating and Plumbing since its inception.

AAA Heating and Plumbing is a locally owned and operated Calgary company specializing in 24/7 emergency furnace repair, plumbing, and HVAC services. With more than 20 years of experience, AAA is known for transparent pricing, no hidden fees, and its red-carpet clean service guarantee. The company proudly serves Calgary and surrounding areas with same-day response, expert technicians, and a customer-first approach that has made it one of the city's most trusted home service providers.
