Technology has spent decades making us more connected, but often left us feeling more alone. We built Just Like Me to change that. To give people meaningful connection, guidance, and support they need.”

Chris Breed, CEO

“Technology has spent decades making us more connected — but often left us feeling more alone,” said Chris Breed, CEO of Just Like Me. “We built Just Like Me to change that. To give people meaningful connection, guidance, and support they need from the most respected minds in the world — anytime, anywhere.”

A World Where You Can Talk to the People Who Inspire You

With Just Like Me™, individuals can have genuine, Zoom-like video-and-voice conversations with AI twins of real people — from bestselling authors and therapists to entrepreneurs, athletes, and thought leaders. Each AI twin is carefully trained on the person’s actual words, teachings, and personality, allowing it to understand and respond naturally — not just with knowledge, but with empathy.

From emotional support to practical mentorship, the platform spans six powerful areas of life:

- Mental Health & Wellness
- Financial Success & Career
- Spirituality & Mindfulness
- Love & Relationships
- Health & Fitness
- Companionship & Care

Users can speak to trusted voices who guide, comfort, and inspire them — creating valuable experiences and connections that feel personal, real, and deeply human.

More Than AI — A Revolution in Human Access

Unlike static chatbots or one-way “AI personalities,” Just Like Me™ enables full-fidelity, two-way video and voice conversation in real time, using advanced speech, memory, and emotional modeling. Each conversation evolves — remembering context, learning user preferences, and adapting over time — creating a growing relationship that mirrors how real connections deepen.

The result is not artificial intelligence, but amplified humanity: people everywhere gaining access to the voices and wisdom that can change their lives.

Building a Better Future — Together

Just Like Me™ was founded with the belief that the world’s greatest resource isn’t technology — it’s people. The platform’s mission is to preserve human wisdom, extend personal influence, and make guidance, empathy, and mentorship infinitely accessible.

“Imagine being able to speak to a trusted therapist when you need comfort, or ask your favorite author to help you through a tough day — instantly,” the company said. “That’s the world we’re creating. It’s not just innovation; it’s impact.”

Now Accepting Talent Applications

Just Like Me™ is now inviting authors, experts, creators, therapists, coaches, and public figures to create their own conversational AI twins.

Talent, agents, and managers can apply at <https://justlikeme.com/talent/apply> to bring their voices and teachings to millions — with built-in safety and protection guardrails and a share of revenue from every interaction.

A New Era of Connection Begins

From emotional wellness to education, inspiration, and beyond, Just Like Me™ is setting a new standard for how AI can serve humanity.

By bringing real conversation, empathy, and guidance to the world, the platform isn't just redefining technology — it's redefining what it means to be connected.
