firm. As organizations grow, hiring often becomes one of the most time-consuming responsibilities for business owners, leaders and lean teams. HelloHire offers an efficient, cost-effective solution that allows companies to stay focused on operations while their recruiting needs are managed by experienced professionals.

“For many companies, hiring the right talent is critical, but managing recruiting on top of the day-to-day is a challenge,” said Teresa Murphey, founder and CEO of Hire Ventures. “HelloHire delivers real recruiting support exactly when it is needed, with no hiring fees or the stress of trying to DIY it.”

HelloHire integrates experienced, U.S.-based recruiters directly within each organization’s culture, systems and hiring process. Unlike traditional contract or contingent recruiters, HelloHire works as part of the team, providing embedded recruiting support through its fractional model. Consultants work directly in the client’s applicant tracking system (ATS) or help set one up through the Hire Ventures partner network. Each plan includes direct sourcing, LinkedIn job postings, ATS management, candidate communication and interview coordination. By working within existing workflows, HelloHire keeps hiring efforts moving forward without the need to add internal recruiting headcount.

The service is designed to address the recruiting challenges faced by growing businesses. HelloHire scales with each organization’s needs, from one hire to multiple concurrent searches,
