

Saudi Arabia Wraps Up Participation at Frankfurt Book Fair 2025

Saudi Arabia concludes its successful participation at Frankfurt Book Fair 2025, showcasing cultural diversity and strengthening global dialogue.

FRANKFURT, GERMANY, October 21, 2025 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Saudi Arabia concluded its participation at the Frankfurt Book Fair 2025, held at Messe Frankfurt from October 15 to 19, where the Saudi Pavilion drew strong visitor interest and international recognition for its cultural and creative displays.

The pavilion, organised by the Literature, Publishing, and Translation Commission, showcased a diverse cultural programme that reflected the growing dynamism of Saudi Arabia's literary and intellectual scene.

Throughout the fair, Saudi writers and intellectuals took part in seminars and panel discussions exploring the development of the national cultural landscape and the diversity of contemporary Saudi literature.

Visitors from across Europe and beyond engaged with the pavilion's content, noting its modern representation of Saudi culture and its emphasis on cross-cultural exchange.

Crowds gather at the Saudi Pavilion to explore books, exhibits, and cultural showcases highlighting Saudi Arabia's literary growth.

Saudi delegates engage in dialogue with international visitors, fostering understanding and collaboration in literature and publishing

The Commission said the participation aimed to strengthen Saudi Arabia's international cultural presence and expand cooperation in literature, publishing, and translation — part of Vision 2030's wider goal of making culture a driver of development and dialogue between nations.

The Frankfurt Book Fair, one of the world's oldest and most influential publishing events, dates back to the 17th century and attracts thousands of publishers, authors, and visitors each year.
